Thomas Barbèy

Figure 1
Mounting example
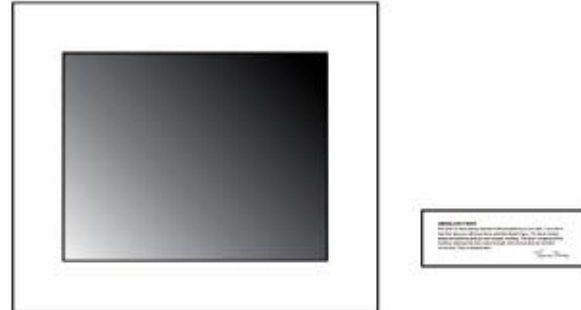

"Natural Disorder"

Wouldn't it be nice if things didn't have to be so perfect?
If we messed up, we would all just blend in and nobody would notice (like the cat who fell asleep in the tree in this image).
All pressure would be off and we wouldn't have to be afraid to make mistakes. People would take more chances and and not be afraid of the outcome. It might bring out the best in us. The tree is a beautiful example.

Thomas Barbèy